

“Applying Z KIT BAG philosophy of Army” – Major General
Rajesh Kundra & “Getting ‘sabal & prabal’ from ‘durbal’-
Brigadier S M Kulkarni – Need of the hour for Quality” @ CCQC-
2019 held at RCOEM

“Z- Zameeni nishan (to look for information about what the scenario), K-Khabar (to keep information about your enemies(competitors), I- Irada (to know and communicate the objective or mission), T- Tarika (to formulate a process to achieve the mission), B- Bandobast (to plan for the resource allocation), A- Administration (to identify infrastructural and administrative needs to achieve your goal), G-Ghadi Milao (to bring all the members on the same platform for planning & execution)” asserted Major General Rajesh Kundra who shared the mantra of Z KIT BAG success of Army which can be related to today’s management scenario was the Chief Guest for the Valedictory Function.

“Quality is one which meets the specifications and customer requirements and provides customer delight. In this complex VUCA world which is highly volatile, uncertain, complex and ambiguous achieving quality needs to be created through creating goodwill in the society, having knowledge. The application of knowledge and skill at the right place and right time is the need of the hour. Getting “sabal & prabal” from “durbal” it’s important to manage “MEN” with “T” – tactically, tacidly, timely and touchingly” asserted Brigadier S M Kulkarni, Sr. GM of Defense, Solar Industries the Chief Guest of the Convention

The Guest of Honor was Mr. D K Srivastava, Executive Director, QCFI Head Quarter. Shri. Govindlal Agrawal, General Secretary, RCOEM, Dr. Rajesh Pande, Principal, RCOEM, QCFI members present on dais were Mr. A K Jain, Chairman, QCFI and Mr. Vivek A Shrouy, Secretary, QCFI. RCOEM-QCFI Centre of Human Excellence was inaugurated by the guests.

Quality Circle Forum of India (QCFI) Nagpur chapter organized 30th Annual Chapter Convention on Quality Concepts (CCQC-2019) on Sunday, 20th October, 2019 at Shri Ramdeobaba College of Engineering & Management (RCOEM). The theme for event is “Quality Concept for Cultural Breakthrough”. The convention included events like Quality Circle Case study presentations, TQM Tools of management presentation like Kaizen, 5S, Safety, Six Sigma, Poka Yoke & TPM, Knowledge test based on QCFI guides, Poster Competition, Slogan/ Poem/ Essay and model Competition. Dr. Vijay Gandhewar, GC Member proposed the Vote of Thanks. Ms. Manju Srivastava, SBI Nagpur and Life Member, QCFI compered the event.

Mr. Ashok S Gadge, Vice Chairman & Chief Faculty, QCFI, Mr. Manohar Hedao, Vice Chairman, QCFI, Dr. Rajiv Khaire, III In-charge, RCOEM and Dr. Chandan Vichoray, HoD-DMT were also prominently present for Inauguration.

Around 750 participants attended the Convention. 140 Teams from various corporate and industries across India participated in various events of the Convention. To motivate and encourage the industries and organization, mostly first time in India a new category of award is introduced i.e. “Best Propagation Organization” the purpose of this award is to support to motivate the organization in the direction of “Make in India”. 10 companies were awarded under “Best Propagation Organization” category. 35 teams received Super gold trophies, 75 teams received Gold trophies and 30 teams received Silver trophies.

The day long Convention was concluded in the presence of Major General Rajesh Kundra, Sena Medal, General Officer Commanding, Uttar Maharashtra and Gujrat Area as Chief Guest for the Valedictory Function. The Guest of Honor was Mr. Paresh Shah, Plant Head, JSW Steel Coated Products Ltd., Kalmeshwar, Nagpur and Mr. Ravi Bhusari, Social Activist. All the prize distribution was done in the hands of the Dignitaries on the dais. The event ended with positive note of enthralled participants of various events.

