THE orientation programme 'Gyandodaya 2015' for the newly admitted students of Shri Ramdeobaba College of Engineering and Management (RCOEM) was organised in the college premises recently in the presence of chief guest Swami Brahmasthanand, President, Ramkrishna Math, Nagpur Chapter. The event was presided over by the Chairman of RCOEM and former MP Banwarilal Purohit.

Prominently present on the occasion were Vice-Chairman Chandrakant Thakar, Vice-Chairman Satyanarayan Nuwal, General Secretary Govindlal Agrawal, Treasurer Ashokumar Pacheriwala, Secretary Kajalshchand Agrawal, Principal Dr R S Pande, First Year In-charge Dr A V Bharti, Dean SRC Prof

Sangita Deshmukh, General Secretary (SRC) Prachi Kulkarni.

Swami Brahmasthanand, in his speech, stated that life was not a graph of straight line but a zigzag line where you have to struggle hard to reach your supreme goal. He emphasised on that education, being assimilation of ideas, it is an individual who explores the higher dimensions of her personality.

In his presidential address, Banwarilal Purohit expressed his grief for the sad demise of the former President of India and Bharatratna Dr APJ Abdul Kalam and recalled his interaction with Dr Kalam during the meetings of Defence Advisory Committee of the Parliament, which the famous scientist used to attend in the capacity of DRDO chief. He inspired the students by stating that today's youth is the future of society and they should always keep higher goals and achieve them with simplicity and character.

Principal Dr R S Pande, in his opening remark, mentioned the achievements and activities of the academic session 2014-15. He emphasised the uniqueness of RCOEM as the epitome of 'modern but disciplined culture' as well as achieving quality in education.

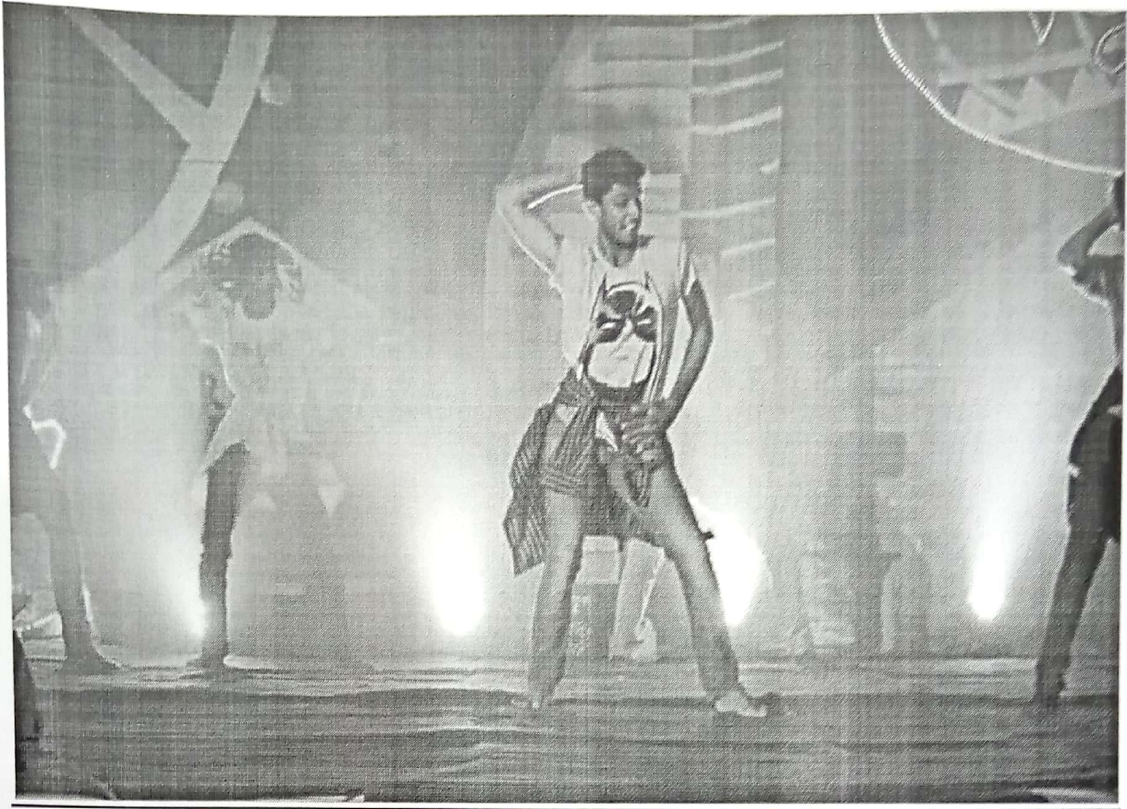

The event was compered by Siddharth Kohli and Satika Samanta while vote of thanks was proposed by Prachi Kulkarni, General Secretary (SRC). Emphasising on the overall development of the students, the college has introduced a variety of clubs namely Photography, Literary, Music, Dance, Drama, Technical, Poetry, and Climbers. Students were also taken for the campus visit at the end of the programme.

PRESS NOTE

"AARUNI 2015" held at RCOEM on 10.10.2015

Continuing with the tradition of AARUNI, which is an evening held by SRC (Students' Representative Council) to welcome the first years of Shri Ramdeobaba College Of Engineering and Management was conducted but this time with a difference. The Freshers' week started with a bang of happy hours on 2.10.15 which was a day full of fun for the Freshers' to enjoy the sports activities, to broadcast their creativity on the creative corner and to witness the live performances by the various college clubs.

Weekly challenges were given to the first years and also the best section award was introduced which was based on the individual participation of the section. Illusion photography was one of the hits amongst the various weekly challenges where the creativity of the fresher's emerged well. Finally the D-day i.e the most awaited freshers' night arrived on 10.10.2015. The day started with the finale of IMPERA that's the personality check activity judged by Mr. Raveesh Jaiswal and Ms. Adishree Wadhawan in the presence of Dean SRC Mrs. Sangita Deshmukh, First year incharge Dr. A.V Bharti and Faculty members. There was a tough competition amongst the participants but AASTHA MISHRA and Abhinav Bathula made their way towards the crown of Ms. and Mr. IMPERA respectively. Amazing is the word to describe the cultural night well, where the fresher's gave their best performances. Fashion show on various themes was organized. There were several other awards like Best Dress Male, Best Dress Female, Best Walk Male, Best Walk Female, Best Art, Best Poster, Best Photo. The young energetic crowd enjoyed the DJ with full on energy. The cultural night was followed by dinner.

SRC lived up to the expectations of the freshers' with AARUNI 2K15.
