

Guest Lecture on Pursuing Career Overseas

By

Department of Humanities

Date: 11th December 2021

Time: 1:30 PM -2:30 PM

Mode: Online

Resource Person: Mr. Ranjan Deb, Assistant Professor, language and Soft Skills, NIT, Nagpur

Faculty Co-ordinator: Dr. Monika Seth, Dept. of Humanities

Audience: 3rd Semester, Industrial Engineering

Dr. Monika. R. Seth organized a virtual guest lecture by Mr. Ranjan Deb on “Pursuing Career Overseas” for all the students in the 3rd semester of Industrial Engineering department on 11th December 2021. The event commenced with a short glimpse of Mr. Deb’s life and his achievements. He was introduced by Ishita Jain. Further, Mr. Ranjan, using a power point presentation, explained the various topics related to what and how to pursue masters or further studies overseas. Also, Mr. Deb’s presentation included topics like “what are the chances of getting into your dream institute in India”, “Why settle for India’s best when you can go to the world’s best”, “Top institutes in the world”, “Reasons why one should study abroad”, “Importance of GRE in overseas education”, Examinations such as IELTS, its four modules, GRE and why and for what the GRE scores are used, the GRE exam pattern, an overview of GMAT, TOEFL iBT, were some topics which were covered by him. He also answered various doubts and questions asked by attendees present in the meeting.

This event was concluded with a vote of thanks by Pranoti Kalamkar. Nehal Nagpal & Vineet Bhoyar were the student coordinators for the guest lecture. More than 45 students actively participated in the guest lecture.

