An informative and interactive lecture on Developing Verbal Aptitude: Tips and Tricks was organized by the Department of Humanities as the first intervention for the Fast Learners of B.Tech First Year (Semester II) on 16th September 2022 from 3:30 PM to 5:30 PM. A total of 40 students were identified as fast learners based on their performance in English theory and lab course. The speaker of the session was Mr. Hitesh Dewani, Co-founder and Director, H R Mentors, Nagpur who is also an alumnus of RCOEM. It was a highly synergetic lecture that focussed on learning the importance and techniques of developing verbal aptitude from the point of view of various competitive exams. Prof. Jasleen Rihan, Faculty coordinator welcomed the Speaker and students to the lecture.

Mr. Dewani discussed the fundamentals of English language in a lucid manner. He also emphasized on the importance and need of exceptional verbal aptitude to be able to crack any of the competitive exams that Engineering graduates prepare for. He discussed the various strategies that students can employ to enhance their vocabulary and develop their proficiency in English language. It was an engaging session with a blend of intellect and humour, thus making it compelling and engrossing for the attendees. The participants gave a positive feedback to the lecture and got their doubts resolved in the open forum which was a part of the session. The proceedings of the lecture were conducted by Prof. Jasleen Rihan and Dr. Akanksha Deshpande, Faculty Co-ordinator, Department of Humanities. Dr. Akanksha Deshpande proposed the vote of thanks and expressed gratitude to Mr. Hitesh Dewani for an informative and engaging session.
