

Guest Lecture on 'Why Soft Skills Are Important'

by

Department of Humanities, RCOEM

Date: 27th November 2021

Time: 1:00pm to 2:00 pm

Mode: Online using Google Meet Platform

Resource Person: Dr. Pooja Bhutada, Freelance Trainer

Guest Lecture In-charge: Dr. Monika Seth

Audience: 3rd Semester, Industrial Engineering

Dr. Monica. R. Seth organized a virtual guest lecture by Dr. Pooja Bhutada on "Why Soft Skills are Important" for all the students in the 3rd semester of Industrial Engineering department on 27th November 2021. The event commenced with a short glimpse of Dr. Pooja's life and her achievements. She was introduced by Sakshi Kokne. Further, Dr. Pooja, with a power point presentation, explained the significance of soft skills, its importance, how and why these soft skills are required in this dynamic world, difference between hard skills and soft skills, and how one can inculcate these skills in one's attitude and behaviour. Also, Dr. Pooja explained about emails etiquette. 'Thinking before we click', 'writing for an action', 'difference between etiquettes ad netiquettes', 'rules of netiquettes', 'internet etiquettes' were some topics which were covered by her. She answered various doubts and questions asked by attendees present in the meeting. This event was concluded with a vote of thanks by Ankita Dwivedi. Also, Dr. Seth thanked Nehal Nagpal for coordinating for the guest lecture. More than 50 students attended the guest lecture.

